* * * This second edition is little, if anything, inferior in rarity to the first. It is equally difficult to find in perfect state. That in the Grenville collection has the last three leaves in facsimile, and it is well known that Mr. Grenville never bought an imperfect book if he thought there was a chance of his finding a perfect one. It contains the ballad of the "Nut Brown Maid." Among the interesting things recorded in this edition, we find under the yeare xii Henry VIII [1521], "And this yere one Luther was accounted an eretyck and on a Sondag that was the xii day of Maii in the presence of the lorde legat and many other bysshops and lordys of England the sayd Luther was openly declared an eretyck at powlys crosse and all his bokes burnyd." That necessity for some kind of reformation existed in England at this time, we gather from a passage in "The artycles founde by the in-quysytours at the visitacyon last done in the chirche of saynt Magnus." "Item that dyvers of the prestes & clarkys in tyme of dyuyne service be at taverns & ale howsys at fysshynge and other tryfys whereby dyvyne service is let."

Conyers, T. Passenger, P. Brooksby, etc. many of them PRINTED ON OLD LONDON BRIDGE. "They illustrate the manners and customs of a much earlier period, and it is to ballads that we owe the knowledge of many events which would have been lost to posterity, had it not been for the labour of love of scholars, critics and antiquarians, who have snatched these precious relics of legendary poetry from oblivion. They have made us familiar with the thoughts, sympathies and language of our ancestors. We follow them to the tournament, the border fray, the public hostelrie and the domestic hearth. We glow with their martial spirit, and revel in their rude festivities." Enough for me that she's a new one.

- * * THIS EXTREMELY RARE AND VERY BEAUTIFUL EDITION OF THE HOURS OF THE VIRGIN ACCORDING TO THE USE OF PARIS, is enriched with no less than 60 large engravings, each surrounded by an ornamental border and occupying the whole of the page, all uncoloured. It consists of 132 leaves, and is thus composed: Title and calendar, 14 leaves, not numbered; then follow folios XV-CXXII; after which 2 leaves not numbered, the last bearing on the recto the printed colophon, and on the verso a woodcut, "Redemptoris mundi arma." The volume concludes with 8 supplementary leaves, entitled, "Commendationes defunctorum," at the conclusion of which we find, "Les dix commandemens de Dieu, in French verse, a quatrain being allotted to each commandment. The twelve woodcuts which illustrate the Calendar are particularly worthy of notice. Each month represents Man at an advancing stage of six years. January shows children of six years of age at play with their various toys; February discovers boys of twelve at school; March has youths of eighteen hunting; April, the young man of twenty-four affects the society of ladies; May, the man of thirty, "En sa fleur, force et beauté de nature," travels through a forest on horseback; June presents us with the man of thirty-six, who assists at a wedding scene; in July, the father of a family sits on the high seat with his wife, a boy and girl at their knees; August finds the proprietor in his forty-eighth year managing his farm; for September the artist's ingenuity seems to have failed him, but in October the rich and prosperous man of sixty is seated at table with his family; November, alas! finds the man of sixty-six, seated in an arm-chair, attended by a physician; and in December, in his seventy-second year, the closing scene of the death-bed, with the attendant

- * * J. P. Kemble derived his authority for pronouncing the word "ache" as H, from an epigram in this rare volume. On sig. o iiii we read:

"On the letter H."

H is worst among letters in the Crosse Row,
For if thou guide him other in thine elbow,
In thine arm, or leg, in any degree,
In thy head or teeth, in thy toe or knee,
Into what place so ever H may pike him,
Where ever thou find ACHE thou shalt not like him.

The "crosse row" has reference to the "horn-book" then in general use. The earliest edition in the Huth library was that of 1576.

Knight of Ellerslie, Maintainer of the Libertie of Scotland (quotation from Cicero in Latin), black letter, fine large copy, ruled throughout in red ink, old calf, with ex libris of Sir James Campbell, dated 1757

4to. Edinburgh/. Printed by Andro Hart and are to / be sould at his buith on the North syde of / the gait a little beneath the crosse / (n. d. 1611)

* * BELIEVED TO BE THE ONLY PERFECT COPY KNOWN OF THIS ISSUE (date inked in), which is identical in collation with the edition having "Anno Dom. 1611" at the foot of title, of which only two copies are known, and those in public libraries. This volume formerly belonged to Alex. Boswell, the father of the biographer of Dr. Johnson, and has his autograph signature; on the fly-leaf he has written: "N.B. This is the best Edition of Wallace and extremely rare, There was and^t Edition of it in Octavo printed also by Andro Hart ano 1621 which is in the Advocates Library." He has also corrected with his pen some incorrectly printed headlines and pagination, and filled in the date "1611" on the title. The binding is contemporary with Sir J. Campbell's book-plate, and in beautiful preservation. It was at one time in the celebrated Auchinleck Library. This is generally known as being by "Henry the Minstrel, or Blind Harry."

- 314 WALTON (ISAAC) THE COMPLEAT ANGLER, or The Contemplative Man's Recreation, being a Discourse on Fish and Fishing, not unworthy the perusal of most anglers, engravings of fish, FINE COPY, with some UN CUT leaves, in the original calf binding
sm. 8vo. J. G. for Rich. Marriot, 1661

* * FIRST ISSUE OF THE THIRD EDITION, much enlarged. "THE LAWS OF ANGLING," in black letter, appeared first in this Edition. Charles Lamb, in an autograph letter to Lloyd, says: "The Complete Angler is the only treatise written in Dialogues that is worth a halfpenny. Many elegant Dialogues have been written, but in all of them the interlocutors are merely abstract arguments personifyd; not living dramatic characters, as in Walton; where everything is alive—the fishes are absolutely characterd—and birds and animals are as interesting as men and women." PRESENTATION COPY, with Inscription on fly-leaf: "Catherine Cotton, given me by my Dearest Father; Given mee T Prise by her Father Ingenious Mr. Charles Cotton: 1687."

4to. Printed by Geo. Robinson for T. Cadman, 1586

* * FIRST EDITION, EXCESSIVELY RARE. No copy in the Huth collection. Mr. Corser's copy, which sold for £55 (1871), formerly belonged to the Radcliffe, Dent and Heber Libraries, so that the present one is believed to be the ONLY OTHER PERFECT COPY KNOWN, and we may not be surprised at this fact when we refer to the "Register of the Company of Stationers for 1586," where we find the following particulars concerning its suppression:

Whereas the Wardens on Monday, 17th Oct. 1586, upon searche of Roger Warde's house dyd fynd there in printinge a booke in Verse intytled "Englande's Albion," being in English and not authorized to be printed which he had been forbidden to prynte, as well by the L. Archb. of Canterbury as well as by the Wardens of his owne house And for as much as all this he hath done contrarie to the late decrees of the honorable Court of Starre Chamber, the said Wardens seised three heapes of the said England's Albion And three presses and divers other parcels of printinge stuffe, by virtue of the said decrees and accordingly brought them to the Stationers halle. Whereupon it is now concluded and ordered, according to the decrees, that the said presses and pryntynge stuffe shalbe made unservyceable, defaced, and used in all pointes according to the tenor of the decrees aforesaid.

THIS HIGHLY INTERESTING POETICAL VOLUME WAS PRAISED BY NASH IN THE YEAR AFTER ITS FIRST APPEARANCE.

317. WATKYN (R.) FLAMMA SINE FUMO: or, POEMS WITHOUT FICTIONS. Hereunto are annexed the Causes, Symtoms, or Signs of several Diseases with their Cures, and also the diversity of Urines, with their Causes in Poetical measure (some ll. slightly defective), red levant morocco extra, g. e. by F. Bedford

sm. 8vo. W. Leake, 1662

* * "This volume would afford some tolerable specimens not unworthy a future edition of Ellis's work, in which Watkyn's name does not at present appear. The author seems to have been a bachelor (see p. 125), a scholar, and an amiable character, who wrote verses for his amusement far from contemptibly, which reflect no discredit on the thatched parsonage that gave him birth (see p. 118). He was a native of Herefordshire: see a respectable copy of Latin Elegiacs in praise of that county at p. 100."—Mr. Heber's note in his copy.

318 WATTS (ISAAC) HYMNS AND SPIRITUAL SONGS. In three books.

- I. Collected from the Scriptures
- II. Compos'd on Divine Subjects
- III. Prepared for the Lord's Supper

With an Essay Towards the Improvement of Christian Psalmody, by the Use of Evangelical Hymns in Worship, as well as the Psalms of David, FIRST EDITION, 3 ll. of the table of Contents slightly shaved in the head-line, otherwise a SUPERB COPY, blue levant morocco extra, gilt back, ornament on the sides, the edges left rough sm. 8vo. London, printed by J. Humphreys for John Lawrence, at the Angel in the Poultry, 1707

- * * * THE FIRST EDITION of the Hymns and Spiritual Songs of Dr. Watts, published in 1707, ranks among the libri rarissimi, and in fact was long unknown. It occupies very much the same peculiar position as Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress." There is no copy in the British Museum, which institution possesses nothing prior to the fifth edition of 1716, and nearly all the collectors of such literature have been unsuccessful in meeting with any of the early impressions. Peter Cunningham, when editing the Life of Watts (Johnson's Lives of the Poets) in 1854, stated that "a first edition of Watts' Hymns, 1707, is rarer than a first edition of the Pilgrim's Progress."

319 WATTS (I.) DIVINE SONGS. Attempted in easy language for the use of Children, FINE COPY (but some middle ll. repaired, and a few letters touched in), blue morocco extra, g. e. by F. Bedford sm. 8vo. Printed for M. Lawrence, at the Angel in the Poultry, 1716

320 WATTS (I.) DIVINE SONGS, attempted in Easy Language for the Use of Children, FINE COPY, very tall with uncut ll. at foot, blue morocco extra, g. e. sm. 8vo. Richard Ford, 1727

- * * * THE EXCESSIVELY RARE eighth edition, of which it is believed no other copy is known. It is the FIRST COMPLETE EDITION, containing the "Cradle Hymn," 14 verses for the first time (see note at p. 47), "Some Copies of the following Hymn having got abroad . . . the Author has been persuaded at last to permit it to appear . . . at the end of these Divine Songs for Children."

- * * * FIRST EDITION OF AN EXTREMELY RARE POETICAL VOLUME. Mr. Douce says that it was a book that was certainly known to Shakespeare. Among the poems is one addressed "To Richard Drake Esquire in praise of Sir Francis Drake Knight," and concludes—
 But, hee, of whome I write, this noble-minded drake,
 Did bringe away his goulden fleece when thousand eies did wake.
 Wherefore, yee woorthie wightes, that seeke for forreine landes :
 Yf that you can, come alwise home, by Ganges goulden sandes,
 And you, that live at home, and can not brooke the flood,
 Geve praise to them, that parse the waves, to doe their countrie good.
 Before which sorte, as chiefe : in tempeste, and in calme,
 Sir Francis Drake, by due deserte, may weare the goulden palme.

As usual there is no pointer to the dial at the end (but a suitable one has been supplied). It is no doubt an error to suppose that one was ever issued with the book. RARELY FOUND IN GOOD CONDITION.
